IMPROMPTU LINES, TO A LADY I NAW AT CHURCH, LAST SUNDAY.

How of in my travels through far distant climes, From the Indies to Scotia's highlands Have I sought that perfection of beauty, which I have found in the Hawniign felands.

I've gazed into many a bright beaming face Where wit, youth and breatty have showed But never such loveliness yet have I seen, As now I behold in thine own.

Your warbling tones, as you joined in the hymn,
Thrill'd my heart, and are echolog yet.
While the glance of your eyes, clear and blue as the ski
I can never, oh; never forget!

Then does it not strange, if while gazing at thee,
I forgot the text, sermon and all,
And have since thought of nothing but how I might get—
"A polite invitation to call." With much impudence, Hoxort v. Feb. 4, 1850

A Poet in the Keene Republican, celebrating the works of Dame Nature, has an idea which comes very near being original, if it be not quite so:—

manufactories? Men of industry and enturprise. As long as they live, they keep at work doing something to benefit themselves and others.

It is just so with a man who is benevolent, the more he gives the more he feels like givering. Let a man squeeze six pence now and then for the contribution box, and he will do no more; no matter how rich he may be. But let bim give a dollar, and so will he continue to do.

We so for activity—in body in mind in Harvelly 28, 1849, 6m11.

We go for activity—in body, in mind, in every thing. Let not the gold grow dim, nor the thoughts become stale. Keep all things in motion. We should rather that death should find us scaling a mountain than sinking in a mire—breasting a whirlwind than sneaking from a cloud.

Frankness.—Be frank with the world.— Frankness is the child of honestycand cour age. Say just what you mean to do on every occasion and take for granted you mean to do what is right. If a friend asks a favor, you should grant it, if it is reasonable; if not, tell him plainly why you cannot. You will wrong him and yourself by equivocation of any kind. Never do a wrong thing to make a friend or to keep one; the man who requires you to do so is dearly purchased at a sacrifice. Deal kindly but firmly with all DOMESTIC FISH PONDS.

We are surprised that our country friends do not pay more attention to the subject of fish ponds. Many of them have on some part of their estates, either natural ponds, or to be one to a man's face and another behind leys; which may be dammed at a trifling ex- his back. We should live, act and speak out pense, and occupy but a comparatively small of doors, as the phrase is, and say and do surface of land, and which, in many cases, is entirely worthless.
